agape TO YOUR SEAT

THE MONEY EVERY VENUE LOSES IN LINE.

Most fans have walked away from a concession line without buying. Agape brings what they wanted to their seat, and turns every order into a relationship with the fan that follows them to every event on Agape.

Games, concerts, college sports, festivals and arenas of every size. Agape is built for any live event, and our first venues are likely to be in Kentucky.

WHY AGAPE WINS

- Times that come true. Every time shown is when it reaches the seat, measured from how fast each kitchen and runner is going right now.
- Delivery that pays. Orders timed to be ready together and carried several to a route: built around deliveries per runner hour.
- One set of books. Fans, stands, runners, the venue and Agape see one ledger, balanced to the cent.
- A venue in an afternoon. Live by filling in a form. No hardware, no integration project.

BUILT, NOT SLIDES

- Six apps on one system: fans, runners, stands, the venue, partners, Agape's team
- Ready for a first venue: real nights, a live console, reports that reconcile at close
- Payments ready to connect: cards held at order, charged on delivery

On a simulated night at the demo arena: 6 min average to the seat, 90% within 10 minutes, 3,000 fans ordering at once, $0.00 off in the books.

HOW AGAPE EARNS

- A share of every sale made through Agape
- A delivery fee on every order brought to a seat
- More with every level: sponsors and deals in the moment, play along, tickets

Fans pay Agape; Agape keeps its share and pays the stands and runners. Nobody is ever collected from.

WHERE IT GOES

Food is the way in. A fan's level, points and history follow them to every venue on Agape: deals and sponsors in the moment, play along, tickets, and a community that lasts past the final whistle. Nearby businesses Agape sends fans to can become its card-processing customers.
